This week we have been learning... ...about our sense!

We have been exploring our 5 main sense of touch, sight, smell, taste and hearing. Each day we investigated how our bodies use these sense to find out information about the world around us.

Touch – We described how different materials felt and guessed what hidden could be.

Sight – We went on a scavenger hunt.

Smell – We guessed the smells from mystery pots and looked at how different animals noses look.

Hearing – We went on a listening walk to stretch our listening muscles. We played sounds loot and guessed what the different noises we heard were.

Taste – We tasted different crisps (they look the same but taste different) and made a pictogram of our favourite flavor.

Home learning this week:: The week before half term (beginning the 16th October) we are having an Autumn week. For home learning this week we would love it if you could go on an Autumn walk (use all of your senses to see how the environment has changed) and could you collecting things like conkers, lovely leaves and other amazing autumn collectables for our learning? Thankyou ☺
