

Year 3 Newsletter

Friday 14th September 2018

In our topic, This Is Me, we have been learning all about ourselves and our hopes and dreams.

In English, we have continued to focus on our descriptive writing techniques. Fortune have been challenged with describing an incredible short movie called 'Rooted'. The class have used their inference and predictive skills brilliantly to make their best guesses about what they think could happen next in the story. We have then focused on ensuring we accurately sequence the story when retelling the story using a wide range of descriptive techniques including using our senses.

In Maths, we have continued working on our understanding of place value and numbers to 1000. Fortune have investigated empty number lines and have used their estimation skills brilliantly this week. They have also completed tricky investigations, where they have tried their best to work systematically, to help find all of the possible numbers you could create when given a range of digit cards.

In our topic sessions, we have been looking at our understanding of safety. The children have shown an incredible understanding of potential dangers in a kitchen and have used this understanding to help prepare ourselves to use the new school kitchen next week.
