This week we have been learning...

This week, in our writing, we have used our acting skills to recreate the story, "The Butterfly Lion". We were able to discuss the key parts of the story and create freeze frames. We have discussed who we thought made the right choice, dad sending the lion away or Bertie for wanting to keep the lion.

In Maths, we have continued to learn about fractions. We have been able to recognise and make thirds of shapes and amounts. We have learnt that $\frac{1}{2}$ is the same as $\frac{2}{4}$ using Cuisenaire to make fraction walls. We have also looked at what is meant by $\frac{3}{4}$ and how we can use the numerator and denominator to show our workings out. We have also attempted our first Secret Agent Training papers (SATs).

In the final week of our inquiry 'My mystery circus' we have created advertising posters for our fabulous finish on Thursday. We have begun looking at our new inquiry "HOT! HOT! HOT!". As a class we have thought about questions we would want to answer and created our front covers for the new term.
